Flathead National Forest

Planting a Centennial Forest

by Ray Keibler, special projects forester

A Montana "Centennial Forest" became a reality on the Flathead NF due to the ingenuity of several Forest employees who conceived the idea of having local area school children plant a Centennial Forest in a previously logged off area on the Tally Lake District.

Enthusiastically welcomed by Flathead Valley School Districts, several one-day field trips were conducted by special projects foresters Ray Keibler and Frank Sedivy. Other Forest Service employees also volunteered a day or two to assist the students in planting the seedlings. Fifth and sixth graders from Columbia Falls, Evergreen, Kalispell and St. Matthew's schools participated in the project.

Students were offered a "hands-on" opportunity to learn about and see various forest management practices, and participate in the establishment of the Centennial Forest. The field trip included several stops where forest management practices were explained and compared to natural forest management. The highlight of the trip occurred when each student planted five Douglas-fir seedlings in the area selected as the new Centennial Forest. At the conclusion of the field trips, over 480 students had planted 2,500 Douglas-fir seedlings in the Centennial Forest.

According to teachers and school principals, the project fit right into their 5th/6th grade curriculum, and they hope this type of field trip will become an annual activity. The students not only had a lot of fun learning about the environment, but established personal pride and a feeling of ownership in the Centennial Forest.

As a finale, Flathead NF will erect an interpretive sign at the site to identify the area and recognize the work done by these enthusiastic young tree planters.

A New Look for Hornet Mountain Lookout

by Madelyn Kempf, public affairs assistant

Hornet Mountain Lookout, despite the ravages of time and attacks of the elements, maintains its lonely vigil—a monument to those who played a vital part in the history of fire detection on the Flathead NF.

Standing on a knob between Teepee and Whale Creek drainages on Glacier View Ranger District, Hornet provides visitor's with spectacular views of the North Fork of the Flathead River and Glacier National Park. Hornet can only be reached by a steep hike. There is no direct road access.

Constructed in 1923, at a cost of $719, Hornet is the only log cupola lookout remaining in the Northern Region. Manned until 1946, the lookout was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in August, 1983.

Attempts to rejuvenate the aging structure began in 1984 when Forest archeologist Gary Mclean and volunteers Maureen Mclean and Rod Pierce, packed 210 pounds of glass on their backs to replace broken windows in the cupola.

The next restoration effort began during the '86/'87 field season. Volunteers from the North Fork Preservation Association (NFPA) and Forest Service employees re-roofed the lookout, painted shutters and made general repairs. One of the volunteers, Art Powell, manned the lookout from 1930 to '34. Forest Service retiree Maurice Johnson split cedar bolts, donated by Lex Blood of Flathead Valley Community College, into shakes.

Generous donations of labor and materials have enabled NFPA to keep repair costs to a minimum. According to John Fredericks, President of NFPA, repairs on the lookout will continue as soon as authentic fittings are found to replace lightning rods and the telephone.

As a fitting tribute to the cooperative efforts of the Forest Service and NFPA, Hornet Mountain Lookout was one of the facilities picked to be part of a recent video presentation produced by Region Four. The video was recently shown to Congress as an example of how the efforts of industry, private organizations and the general public have furthered "cost share" partnerships and helped expand the program.

Kootenai National Forest

Scholarships Awarded

by Jeanne Spooner, public affairs specialist

Through the efforts of Kootenai NF employees nearly $15,000 in scholarships has been awarded to graduating seniors in the Libby, Troy and Eureka high schools since 1981. This year six $500 scholarships and one $200 scholarship were awarded.

The Rexford and Fortine Districts and East Zone Engineering (north end) sponsor the scholarship program for Eureka; Three Rivers District and West Zone Engineering provide the program for Troy, and the remaining districts, East Zone Engineering and the Supervisor's Office sponsor the scholarships awarded in Libby. Money is raised through projects such as sale of T-shirts, hats, belt buckles, aluminum cans, cribbage tournaments, breakfasts, auctions of food and handicrafts, potluck luncheons, parties, and individual donations.

Regional Forester Gives Awards

At a special awards ceremony held June 1 at the Red Lion Inn in Missoula, Regional Forester John Mumma presented awards to a number of deserving Region One employees:

Bill Morden, forest supervisor, Idaho Panhandle NFs, was awarded for excellence in administration of a national forest; Chuck Prausa, district ranger, Bonners Ferry District, Idaho Panhandle NFs, and Steve Solem, district ranger, Clearwater District, Nez Perce NF, for excellence in administration of a ranger district; Stan Shields, administrative officer, Idaho Panhandle NFs, for excellence as a forest staff officer; Bob Gibson, forest supervisor, Gallatin NF, for interagency coordination and cooperation; Dave Poncin, staff officer, fire, recreation, lands, and law enforcement, Nez Perce NF, for public relations and job accomplishments associated with the 1988 fire season; Dennis Dailey, district ranger, Moose Creek District, Nez Perce NF, for wilderness education and administration; Doug Fraser, R.O. planning, programming, and budgeting, for Regional Office staff assistance and cooperation; Ron Erickson, forester for lands, minerals, and recreation, Kootenai NF, for the ASARCO Rock Creek project; Jim Mann, director, R.O. aviation and fire management, for staff assistance during the 1988 fire season; Tom Kovalicky, forest supervisor, Nez Perce NF, for forest management and land ethic; Livingston Ranger District, Gallatin NF, for special achievement in civil rights accomplishments; Selway Ranger District (Fenn Ranger Station), Nez Perce NF, for cultural awareness; Custer National Forest, for special achievement in civil rights accomplishments; and Beaverhead National Forest, for the best forest safety record.

Special awards for the 1988 fire recovery efforts went to: Ron Haag, director R.O. range, air, watershed and ecology; Ernie Nunn, forest supervisor, Helena NF; Bob Schrenk, regional pilot program coordinator; Bert Kulesza, R.O. range, air, watershed, and ecology; Jerry Reese, staff officer, forest plan implementation, Lewis and Clark NF; Warren Webster, zone contracting officer, Gallatin NF; Dick Roullier, management systems, R.O.; Laird Robinson, information office, R.O.; Jerry Luce, supervisory forestry tech, fire management, Idaho Panhandle NFs; Jim Reid, director, management systems, R.O.; Bill Putnam, R.O. range, air, watershed, and ecology; Wendel Hann, R.O. range, air, watershed, and ecology; and Dave Tippetts, R.O. information office.

Awards for forest planning activities went to: Dick Call, Ron Hanson, and Sandy Matheny for successful negotiations affecting the implementation of the Deerlodge NF Plan; Chuck Tribe, Kerry McMenus, Sherry Munther, Janet Kekich, and Kent Nelson for their work in responding to forest plan appeals and working with forest staffs; and Gregg Warren, Harold Greer, Jim Laux, Ann Puffer, Bob Ralphs, and Ellen Vollmer for serving as vital members of the regional interdisciplinary team for forest plan appeals.

Tim Love, Mike Hillis and Chuck Neal were awarded for their work on the Continental Divide Trail. Mike Cook and Jack King were awarded for exemplary performance in technology transfer in best management practices for forest road construction and maintenance.

Bertie Pearson, R.O. administration received an award for contribution of personal time in organizing outside activities that brought the Forest Service “family” closer; and Roselyn Gyles, secretary to the regional forester, was awarded for sustained excellence in performance of duties.

Retirements

Dale Thacker, Stevensville District Ranger, Bitterroot NF, is retiring after 38 years with the Forest Service. Thacker worked on the Nez Perce NF, was ranger at Magruder on the Bitterroot NF, and at Plains District, Lolo NF. In 1965 he was appointed director of the Job Corps Center in Dickinson, South Dakota, his favorite duty in all his years with the Forest Service. After retirement, Thacker intends to follow through with his interest in education—either as a volunteer in the school system or as a tutor of illiterate adults.

Larry Lewis, ranger on Gardiner District, Gallatin NF, retired June 30 after 28 years of service. Lewis worked on the Clearwater, Colville, Coeur d’Alene, Idaho Panhandle and Beaverhead NFs. He’s been on the Gallatin NF for the past 11 years. Forest Supervisor Bob Gibson said Lewis has demonstrated a strong land ethic and has been an outstanding ranger. John Logan, budget and finance officer on the Custer NF, assumed the ranger’s post in Gardiner July 2.

Reforestation Program Gets Helping Hand

by Peggy Polichio, district silviculturist, Powell Ranger District

How does a semi-remote district with limited personnel get a 1,000-acre artificial reforestation program accomplished? With a little help from the clients of Big Bear Resources, a work activity center for the handicapped, it is not an impossible task!

Eight to 20 clients of the Big Bear Resources group in Missoula worked 120 group hours to assemble 80,000 artificial tree shades for Powell District. These people have limited abilities, but limitless enthusiasm and drive when it comes to accomplishing a task. Dale Thom, Marketing Manager for the center, described several clients for which assembly of two or three shades took up to an hour. Each shade was a personal achievement to some of these folks. Most of the clients are social security recipients; this project gave them some spending money—up to $100 per week—the highest wages some of them have ever received! Powell District fared well. Having the group do this project saved them about $500 and much valuable time. In addition to this project, Big Bear Resources group folded 1,000 pamphlets for the district at a nominal cost.

Employment Agreement Signed on Deerlodge NF

Officials of the Deerlodge NF and North American Indian Alliance of Butte have signed a cooperative employment agreement. Acting Forest Supervisor Dick Call said the Forest Service will contract four new seasonal employees from the Alliance as part of its overall Affirmative Action responsibilities. Workers will be trained in timber and range programs and will receive skills so they can later contract themselves out to other various federal or state land management agencies, private timber companies or ranches. Also, trainees will be encouraged to seek an active long term career with the Forest Service.

Workers will also be available for firefighting efforts. The Alliance is working to form a permanent Indian firefighter crew from Butte that would respond to fires both in-state and out-of-state. Interested Native Americans should contact the Alliance at 723-4361.

Nez Perce NF Hosts Fishing Derbys

Fishing derbies hosted by Selway and Elk City District on June 10 were a splashing success and produced an abundance of winners in all age categories. Thirty-six youngsters participated in Selway District's contest at Fenn Ranger Station along the Selway River. There, 2-year-old Emily Andrews caught a 13-inch trout weighing nearly as much as she does. She received a First Fish Award! Elk City District's derby was held at Five Mile Campground. Kendall Clark, a Selway District employee, who helped organize the derby said, "it's a unique combination of fun and sun and kids. Hosting the derby is a favorite district activity; one we'll enjoy doing again next year."

Ellen McKenzie, public affairs assistant Campground Hosts Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Don and Doretha Lindholm, hosts of Wilderness Gateway Campground on Lochsa District, Clearwater NF, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the campground June 14. District personnel and campground visitors helped Lindholms celebrate with a potluck luncheon and special presentation. This is the Lindholms fourth year of hosting on the Forest. They are employed under the Senior Community Service Employment Program. According to Mel Fowlkes, who supervises the program on Lochsa District, Don and Doretha have special qualities that make them perfect for the job.

Backcountry Horsemen's Club Honored

The Clearwater and Nez Perce NFs joined the Idaho Trails Council recently in honoring the Back Country Horsemen of North Central Idaho for "outstanding contributions to trail maintenance, construction and education of trail users." The club worked on projects in five ranger districts of the two national forests during 1988.

Lewis and Clark NF Hosts SSS Workshop

The Lewis and Clark NF hosted a regional workshop for support services supervisors (SSS) and business management assistants (BMA) in Great Falls in May. Attended by some 45 SSS's throughout the region plus several regional and forest representatives and speakers, the session was informative, challenging and enthusiastic. The objective was to provide a preview of, and preparation for, business administration in the 1990's, which integrates the personal goal of career development and the organizational goals of the Forest Service.

Firefighters Get Commemorative Book

Forest Service employees who participated in the 1988 Northern Region fires received a special thank you from Regional Forester John Mumma as a mark of his appreciation for their contribution.

The thank you is in the form of a commemorative book -- Northern Region, Summer of '88 -- which tells the story of the fires of 1988 in the Northern Region. It is beautifully designed with striking photos complementing a chronology of fire events.

John McCulloch, Regional Office retiree (December, 1988) coordinated the project. He retired before the book was completed, but immediately signed up as a volunteer in order to finish the job. He recently received an award from Regional Forester John Mumma for his work.

John McCulloch displays a copy of the firefighter's commemorative book.

Children's Home Adopts Trail

by Tom Geouge, Pierce Ranger District

Five enrollees of the Northwest children's Home of Lewiston returned to Pierce Ranger District June 9 to continue with volunteer maintenance of the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail.

The group adopted a two-mile section of trail in June, 1988, and with the completion of this, their fourth weekend of work, they've cleared the two-mile segment, and started constructing trail tread. The group was hosted by volunteer district employees Tim Lewis, Tom Geouge, and LeRoy Peneku, as well as Bruce Peebles of Kelly Creek Flycasters. These hosts provided a "big brother" type fishing experience in appreciation of the fine work contributed by the young men and Northwest Children's Home.

Peebles demonstrated flycasting techniques and instructed the group in "hands-on" flycasting. The lessons were well-received, and resulted in netting several brook trout.

"Thanks to this and other fine volunteer efforts," said District Ranger Tom Blunn, "the Lewis and Clark Trail across the Pierce Ranger District will be available for the public to use for Idaho's Centennial next year."
